Founded in 1915 as the Cartographic Group, the first division of National Geographic, National Geographic Maps has been responsible for illustrating the world around us through the art and science of mapmaking. Today, National Geographic Maps continues this mission by creating the world's best wall maps, recreation maps, atlases, and globes which inspire people to care about and explore their world.

Quality of map is excellent. Nice reference. Lacked names of peaks and valleys but that could be because they are not named.

I visited Alaska in 2010 and spent two weeks going from Seward to Prudhoe Bay (1,043 miles) This map helps me to relive the experience. I wished I had it with me then.

There are no trails on this map, and the geographic scale is pretty small.
