

The book was found

Exile (The Grace Mysteries)

Synopsis

There's a new arrival at Court and Lady Grace can't believe how many rumours there are about her already. The exiled Banoo Yasmine from Sharakand is a beautiful girl with a pet panther and, everyone believes, magical powers. Yasmine also possesses the renowned Heart of Kings Ruby, a huge stone that she wears around her neck to balls and feasts, that legend says has the power to make kings. When the famed jewel goes missing, the finger is pointed at Grace's dear friend Ellie the laundry maid. Grace must prove her friend's innocence, find the true thief, and restore the stone to its rightful owner. All miscreants and ill-thinkers, keep out!

Book Information

Series: The Grace Mysteries (Book 5)

Hardcover: 208 pages

Publisher: Delacorte Books for Young Readers (February 14, 2006)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 0385733224

ISBN-13: 978-0385733229

Product Dimensions: 5.2 x 0.8 x 7.3 inches

Shipping Weight: 8.8 ounces

Average Customer Review: 4.5 out of 5 stars 10 customer reviews

Best Sellers Rank: #1,464,188 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #79 in Books > Children's Books > Literature & Fiction > Historical Fiction > Renaissance #881 in Books > Children's Books > Literature & Fiction > Historical Fiction > Europe #1391 in Books > Children's Books > Geography & Cultures > Royalty

Age Range: 8 - 12 years

Grade Level: 3 - 7

Customer Reviews

Gr. 4-7. Running down the alphabet, Exile is the fifth title in the series that began with Assassin (2004), written by Patricia Finney, though the purported author of all the volumes is Lady Grace Cavendish, protege of Queen Elizabeth I. In this tale, a jewel is stolen from an exiled noble from Sharakand. When a laundry maid is falsely accused of the crime, Grace tries to discover the thief's identity. Less convincing than the portrayals of the English characters are the colorful but cardboard figures of the visitors from Sharakand. Still, this is an enjoyable mystery, which moves swiftly to a satisfying conclusion. Carolyn Phelan Copyright © American Library Association. All rights reserved

" 'The reader is quickly drawn into the intrigue and chilling atmosphere of court life.' - Primary Times
'A gripping historical thriller' - Sunday Times 'Filled with humour, charm and fun, they're an absolute must for all you amateur sleuths out!' - Poppi 'The personal narrative, written with great attention to the details of Court life, is a fascinating and exciting read' - Sunday Tribune 'This book is absolutely superb and I really enjoyed the way it hooks you on all the murders. I liked all the chapters because they always leave you at a cliff-hanger which made me want to read on all the time!' - Maria, 10"
--This text refers to an out of print or unavailable edition of this title.

I've been loving this series. My only regret is that I am nearing the end of its published volumes. It appears that the original author has handed it off to new contributors. While the collaboration improved the last volume, the lack of Patricia Finney shows in this one. Still a good book, but not quite the same voice.

A very good read that kept the reader guessing until the end. A wonderful edition to the Lady Grace Mysteries.

my daughter who is 11 - omg she gets so into the Lady Grace books I have to hide her kindle!

Thank you.

Lady Grace is maid-of-honor to her majesty Queen Elizabeth (the first) and also her personal detective. The books are in diary form and chock-full of historical details and interesting facts, but without this information getting in way of the story. Not only that, but they are fun, rollicking adventures of Grace acting quite improperly and loving it. The Queen (not always the most proper woman) turns a blind eye as long as she saves the day and not many people find out. One of my favorite parts of the series is the characterization of Queen Elizabeth. She is every bit regal, but also possesses a fantastic and wicked sense of humour. Exile is the fifth book of the series. Banoo Yasmine of Sharakand is an exiled Princess. There are several rumours floating around the court about why she and her retinue are in London, but the Queen as told Grace the truth-- her family was the victim of a bloody coup in Sharakand. The giant Heart of Kings ruby that she wears around her neck is rumoured to have magical powers, but Grace knows it's really a gift to the Queen to guarantee that the Banoo and her people can stay and be safe in England. Of course, the ruby gets stolen and Grace is afraid the Queen won't continue to give the Banoo sanctuary without the ruby as security. The ruby is found, but it's discovered in Ellie's laundry basket. Grace knows her friend didn't steal the ruby, but Ellie's about to be in serious trouble if Grace can't find out who did steal it! This book focuses a lot on the different customs of the people from Sharakand and how the English court reacts to these strangers. Unfortunately, Grace doesn't get to know any of these people really well-- there are language difficulties and she's trying to clear her best friend after all-- so they aren't very fleshed out and we don't get to know them very well. We just see Grace's perceptions as she observes them at dinner or passes them in the corridors. This isn't the strongest book in the series, but fans of Grace will not be disappointed.

This is the fifth book in the Lady Grace Mysteries series, about Lady Grace Cavendish, a thirteen-year-old Maid of Honour at the court of Queen Elizabeth I. It's January 1570, and a new visitor is arriving at court. Banoo Yasmine is a young noblewoman from the Middle Eastern country of Sharkand. When the king of Sharakand was overthrown, Banoo Yasmine's family was murdered because they had supported him, and only she escape. In England, she hopes to regain her fortune so she can return to Sharakand and restore the rightful ruler, and has decided to ask the Queen for help. However, soon after Banoo Yasmine arrives, the Heart of Kings, the famed ruby of Sharakand, disappears. Grace's friend Ellie, a young laundrymaid at the palace, is blamed for the theft when the ruby is found in her laundry basket. Grace knows Ellie would never steal and is determined to find the real thief before her friend is punished for something she did not do. I loved the first four Lady Grace mysteries and am pleased to say I loved this one as well. As always, Grace is a great character who brings to life the world of Elizabethan England, and the historical details are excellent. I can't wait to read the upcoming books in this series. I would recommend this series to readers who love historical mysteries or who have a special interest in the Elizabethan era.

This is the fifth book in the Lady Grace Mysteries series, about Lady Grace Cavendish, a thirteen-year-old Maid of Honour at the court of Queen Elizabeth I. It's January 1570, and a new visitor is arriving at court. Banoo Yasmine is a young noblewoman from the Middle Eastern country of Sharakand. When the king of Sharkand was overthrown, Banoo Yasmine's family was murdered because they had supported him, and only she escape. In England, she hopes to regain her fortune so she can return to Sharakand and restore the rightful ruler, and has decided to ask the Queen for help. However, soon after Banoo Yasmine arrives, the Heart of Kings, the famed ruby of Sharakand, disappears. Grace's friend Ellie, a young laundrymaid at the palace, is blamed for the theft when the ruby is found in her laundry basket. Grace knows Ellie would never steal and is determined to find the real thief before her friend is punished for something she did not do. I loved the first four Lady Grace mysteries and am pleased to say I loved this one as well. As always, Grace is a great character who brings to life the world of Elizabethan England, and the historical details are excellent. I can't wait to read the upcoming books in this series. I would recommend this series to readers who love historical mysteries or who have a special interest in the Elizabethan era.

I love to read the Lady Grace mysteries and the book Exile because, I look forward to the mysterious parts of the book. I've read six Lady Grace mysteries so far, and they keep me coming back for more! I like following Lady Grace through the beginning, climax and resolution of each book in the mysteries she solves. I like how Lady Grace discusses her own feelings about the events happening around her in each book. In conclusion I enjoy reading these mysteries and I can't wait to finish reading about what happens to Lady Grace next! As a middle school student I would recommend this book and this series to other middle school students because this series is entertaining and very interesting to me.

Download to continue reading...

Exile (The Grace Mysteries) Aging with Grace: What the Nun Study Teaches Us about Leading Longer, Healthier, and More Meaningful Lives [AGING W/GRACE] Girls of Grace Daily Devotional: Start Your Day with Point of Grace The Grace Awakening: Believing in Grace is One Thing. Living it is Another. The Grace Awakening Devotional: A Thirty Day Walk in the Freedom of Grace Grace Livingston Hill, Collection No.6 (4 Complete Novels including a novel by Isabella Alden, aunt to Grace Livingston Hill) Feud (The Grace Mysteries) Conspiracy (The Grace Mysteries) Assassin (The Grace Mysteries) Deception (The Grace Mysteries) The Grace Mysteries: Assassin & Betrayal Betrayal (The Grace Mysteries) One Minute Mysteries: 65 Short Mysteries You Solve with Math! The Gray Whale Inn Kitchen: A Collection of Recipes from the Bestselling Gray Whale Inn Mysteries (The Gray Whale Inn Mysteries) One Minute Mysteries: 65 Short Mysteries You Solve With Science! Old-Time Radio's Greatest Mysteries - Including "The Shadow", "Escape", "Inner Sactum Mysteries" and "The Mysterious Traveler" Four Rabbi Small Mysteries: Friday the Rabbi Slept Late, Saturday the Rabbi Went Hungry, Sunday the Rabbi Stayed Home, and Monday the Rabbi Took Off (The Rabbi Small Mysteries) Unexplained Mysteries: Bizarre Unexplained Mysteries From Every Corner Of The Globe: True Ghost Stories And Hauntings Box Set (True Paranormal, Haunted Asylums, Unexplained Phenomena Book 2) Red Herring Mysteries: Solving Mysteries through Critical Questioning, Level 2/Grades 7-12+ Freedom in Exile: The Autobiography of The Dalai Lama

Contact Us

DMCA

Privacy

FAQ & Help