Zoe Erotopoulos, PhD, has taught French at a number of institutions, including Columbia University and Reid Hall in Paris. Her experience ranges from elementary to advanced courses, including literature and theater.

Listened to this in my car for several mos prior to my Paris trip in April.. I actually learned basic expressions and got a feel for the cadence of speech. I heartily recommend this as an easy way to be comfortable with French. Also has a carry with you little book with common phrases. Very handy

So far has been useful for learning to speak Frenc. Would be better if the booklet that comes with th CDs also showed the pronunciation of the words and phrases that are reviewed.

straight forward - easy to understand - quite affordable - personally recommend.

Hard to follow and learn anything of significance. Disappointed. I usually love this stuff. Will be going the higher end now of audio training. All good though, it wasn't too expensive to give it a whirl. Someone else perhaps with a little more french experience may find it beneficial.

For me, this is perfect. I'm trying to learn just enough French to cope in Montreal. I took French in school, but never really learned to hear and speak it. But I remember enough to read a fair amount, so listening to the audio with its exaggerated pronunciation and tips pulls a lot up from the depths of my memory. I've also loaded some other easy French CD's into my car player, so using Dummies along with some of these is perfect for my purposes. I'm way past studying and am not aiming to become fluent, just able to catch snatches and communicate at a basic level.

very helpful-had French in 2 yr at high school from a French teacher who taught French, some of the pronouncements were different from high school and college, but a good refresher to converse with my granddaughter

Very simple and easy to listen to as you drive around on errands. Has both male and female voices. Great for picking up some basics. I think its great to have the cheat sheet booklet with it also. With repetition it will sink in.

You have to hear the language to learn it! Excellent!What better way to learn by an audio set. Merci beaucoup.
