Goofy Mad Libs

Synopsis

Be your own comedy writer! From the creators of the Original Mad Libs® , Goofy Mad Libs® will help keep you in touch with the funny side of life. The idea is simple. Someone asks for a part of speech: a verb, a noun, an adjective, or an adverb. We've included definitions and examples of the parts of speech in case you've forgotten. Players call out their ideas to fill in the blanks and in the end, you have a story reeling from one silly sentence to another until nothing makes sense. That's what you call a Mad Lib®, the world's greatest word game. Players have been howling with friends or laughing all to themselves for over 35 years!

Price Stern Sloan publishes fun and engaging books in a variety of formats, including board books, doodle books, activity books, novelty titles, and of course, the classic Mad Libs.

For those of you who don't know what Mad Libs are, you are given a list of word parts (adjective, noun, verb, plural noun, etc.) that you fill in with your own submissions and then a paragraph on the next page has a bunch of words blanked out which you then add back in your words from the previous page, respectively, and read the new silly version. We had so much fun doing these Mad Libs while on a long car ride (consecutive days of 10 hrs+). My husband and I have a 7, 5, and 2 1/2 yr old and I was so pleased that they were all able to participate! Obviously it took some coaching for all of them but by our return trip home, even the youngest was yelling out words like "crusty" and "dinosaur!" Her responses didn't always fit what we asked but it was great that she felt included. It proved to be a good teaching opportunity for my soon to be Kindergartener about word parts. I would call out the words I needed and dictate submissions then read aloud and all parties were giggling and laughing. My husband and I got a big kick out of some more than our kids just because they didn't get the additional connotations implied by certain words used. I like to write mine in pencil so we can go back and redo them another time. I loved Mad Libs as a kid and they were still super fun, but I took off a star for this particular book because there were a few pages with editing errors. There were word parts asked for but then never included in the story and word parts in the story never asked for in the word section. There were at least 2 pages like this, maybe 3. This is really unacceptable for a book that has been published since 1993. It's not like this is the first copy off the presses; you'd think between 1993 and now SOMEBODY else would have pointed out their errors. Still, a great buy for unique, clean, family fun, especially in the car.

Mad Libs are always fun, and this one does not fall short of the usual expectation. We bought this as a stocking stuffer for my 7-year-old son, and I paged through it to see what kinds of stories are there. Needless to say, I think he will be very happy. As an English teacher, I love that Mad Libs teaches him something about the parts of speech while having fun. My middle school students don't always know what an adjective is, but my 2nd grade son does. :)

I purchased this item to go along with some dental cheek spreaders so my family and friends can attempt to say the phrase they just made with extreme difficulty and entertainment. Absolutely the best time at parties and family events. My stomach has never been so sore from laughing. Even my 9yr old has a blast. Worth the purchase and then some. Not many folks know that Mad Libs stemmed from the inability of someone being able to spell a word in a spelling bee competition and has been around since the late '50's. There are so many Mad Lib options types and this one is great to begin with. I highly recommend this product if you wish to laugh uncontrollably.

I was trying to find an innovative way to help my 3rd grader "enjoy" parts of speech through games, and I remembered that Mad Libs was one of my favorite things to do as a kid - so I bought a few. The Junior ones are too easy for anyone trying to learn the proper names for parts of speech (they use symbols) so get the ones that are not marked Kid or Junior. These are perfect, though. Your child (or with friends, etc.) fill out the list at the top of the page with verbs, nouns, adjectives, adverbs, etc and then populate the spaces in the story and read aloud. It's always a hoot. We will be getting more - just be sure to peek at a few pages in the Look Inside - some Mad Libs are marked "adult" for more adult stories and content. This one is fine for elementary schoolers.

Great family activity. My 7 year old daughter learned and retained what adjectives, verbs, adverbs, nouns, and plural nouns are just from this.

Awesome

Are family has a great time with these!!

Expensive, but granddaughters like them.
