Maria is beautiful loving middle aged woman who happens to be going through a rough time after a bad break up with her ex-husband has left her homeless and living in her car with her nine-year-old son, Martin. She is desperate for a new job, a new chance at life to help give her son a better and steady upbringing. When she gets a job as a waitress in a diner, she hopes that it might be the solution to her problems. Unfortunately, it does not pay well enough to free her from her woes right away. After a security guard spots her on CCTV parked in the lot of the warehouse he is monitoring, he alerts his boss, who happens to be Joseph Frink, a handsome billionaire. The security guard is expecting Joseph to be mad that she is practically squatting in his car lot but when Joseph hears about her and visually sees her and how she is living, he cannot keep her out of his mind. Nor can he kick her off of his property. As he starts to look into who this mysterious squatter is, he sees that she is in need of some real assistance. Is Joseph attracted to Maria? Can he be her shining light and help her get back on her feet? Is Maria safe from her conniving and selfish ex-husband? Or will her and her son's life continue to be on a downward spiral? Find out in this heartfelt bwwm love romance by Alicia Beckton about hitting rock bottom and love picking you right back up.

Customer Reviews

I actually liked this story better than Her Billionaire Shining Light I liked Keisha and Paul. That had an interesting storyline about photography studios and corporate spying. All because she didn't want to pursue anything with that slimeball Kyle. Paul was so gallant. I am hoping they can make their long distance relationship work. I'm betting in my head they can't stand being apart and she joins him in California as his right arm, and also as his wife. A girl can dream can't she????

5.0 out of 5 stars

The books that I have read so far are very good but they leave you hanging I just finished reading one and I don't know if they are together or what all I know they're in bed I really would like more detail. They're good but they just leave you guessing

The storyline was good, but it was lacking in details. How is totally Maria's knight in shining armour. He's a billionaire who discovers Maria and her son are sleeping in their car. How goes all out to help them, but it runs deeper than just help. This story is just not equipped with strong details and connectivity. It is lacking in back stories about both Joe and Maria. It barely holds the readers attention. The ending is just too weak and it lacks closure. There are too many questions unanswered.

Okay read. Book cover was misleading. Description of characters didn't match book cover.

Great story line

It was okay. Probably seem like it was too rush. There's were barely any chemistry between the two. Pity to liking her. I'm guessing that how ppl fall in love with each other after the first date. And as a parent and mother I would've thought she would've been conscious by Joe offers. Most mom wouldn't just happily accept the offers. And the main issue I had with her was when Martin got hurt. Kids play and like she said he's nine. He going to get hurt. The dad trusted the son and let him play outside. She's too over protective of her child. And that's not good at all. He's s newborn or toddler anymore but big kid.

This story is about a young divorcee with a young child , who is homeless and out of a job.. In spite of all the obstacles , she finds love.

Good story...Four stars
