Customer Reviews

The full list price went up by $5 from $25 to $30, but no additional content has been added for the additional money and relatively few price changes (over 6000?) have been listed for this twice annual edition. We were expecting to see additional golf and non-sports sets added, or more details on existing sets for the existing money, (although there are 18 additional pages from the previous addition, this may be because of additional full-page ads toward the front). And the book still has no easy way to determine exactly what set you are looking at on each page unless you just happen to turn to a page where the set starts. We still need set titles on the top of every page in order to see what you are looking at as you scan the book to find the card in the specific set you want.

good reference but not enough info. on cards after 1980
