Customer Reviews

I'm a newbie to soaping and this book has everything go p from safety precautions to techies for liquid soap! I was very pleased for easy reading and yet detailed info. Highly recommend for other beginners wanting to have a go at soap too.

After reading this book, it explained a lot I don't know about soaps. I highly recommend this book if you're thinking of making soap.

It is just an introduction to soap making. Only has 1 recipe. Couldn't expect more for its price.

Love this book! Very informative

I would most definitely recommend this ebook. It was very informative and in depth on how to make your very own first bar of soap.

This is a good book for a beginner soaper. It had helpful information. One thing that I would add is running all recipes through a soap calculator. I will be making some of these recipes but will use the soap calculator first. A couple of the ones I did run through the soap calculator seemed like they were not quite right or that the water had been discounted which would be for more advanced soapers. One of the recipes also seemed to be missing the measurements for the liquid and lye (dry skin repair). There was a lot of helpful information though including safety tips and properties of oils and butters.

So happy I got this book. It's easy to read with good directions. There's lots of soap varieties I can't wait to try them all. The first recipe I tried was very easy to follow. Here is a picture of the soap that I made using the first recipe in the book. I added spirulina powder to half the batter. I love how it turned out.

I have read your E-book. It is well written. The only thing I see is you gave a laundry soap recipe in beginning. And then you went into soap safety. I believe that might be misleading a little. I believe that you need to know all facts before going into how to make any type of soap. Safety being a big thing. And other small point is let newbies know about flash point so they don't add FO or EO and lose all scent because oils are too hot. But GREAT JOB Good Luck everyone with your soaping.
