Beth Gunnell is a freelance designer and artist who has illustrated beautiful patterns for coloring books including The Animal Colouring Book, The Beautiful Patterns Colouring Book, and Pretty Patterns Colouring Book.

This is a beautiful set of postcard size designs. Each design is simply more delightful than the last one. I want to carry this book around with me constantly and color in it. It has birds, geometric patterns, sewing, fruit, flowers, and all sorts of other pretty and fun subjects. I had never seen any of Beth Gunnell's designs before, so I was taking a chance with this book and I am glad that I did. After testing this one, I immediately ordered her second book of floral postcards so that I can have one book in my purse and one at home. I really hope she continues with this style of book and maybe some larger format ones, too, that are for adults versus what seems to be her coloring books for young girls. The designs are, in fact, pre-set up for use as postcards with areas for shipping address, writing area, and stamp on the reverse side of each card. There are even cute little designs on that side as well which you can color with a lick of ink/pencil. The size of the book (and pages) is 7.75 x 4.75 inches. The designs are printed on one side of heavyweight, frame-able card stock that has a glued edge that makes removal from the book as simple as can be. All you have to do is carefully pull the design away from the edge and it is ready for mailing or framing as you choose. I could easily get this book to lay fairly flat but you can always remove pages for coloring if you wish to do so, too. This is probably the best paper I have in any of my coloring books, etc. The only thing that bled through these pages were my Copic and Prismacolor alcohol-based markers and those bleed through everything. My Sharpies, both fine and ultra-fine did NOT bleed through and I checked neon, dark, and bright colors as well. None of my water-based marker did either. My gel pens worked great but needed a little more drying time as the ink apparently sat on the surface of this great paper and did not sink into it. My coloring pencils worked fantastic.

Nice quality. Whimsical. 25 cards, not 50. Looking forward to coloring them for various occasions. I added a couple more photos.

Love this book of postcards! I am finding that I enjoy colouring postcards more than I do actual colouring pages for two reasons: 1. The postcards are smaller, and I complete one before I get bored, and 2. I actually use the postcards to send to friends and family as birthday cards/notecards/thank you notes. They are a big hit. Nice variety of whimsical designs in this book, including several that are suitable to send to men. I bought a package of these clear envelopes - 100 - Clear Resealable A2 / A6 Card Envelopes Polypropylene Cello Bags 4 3/4" x 6 3/4" 1.5mil (A6) - I address my postcard and add a note, then slide the postcard into the clear envelope, seal and add a first class postage stamp for mailing. That way if the card gets wet in the mail, the colours won't run, particularly when I use gel pens. A couple people have told me they leave the card right in the cello envelope, add a strip of magnet to the back, and it becomes a fridge decoration!

I absolutely love this beautiful book - something for everyone with lots of flowers. I use my Sharpie markers since it has high-quality cardstock and looks quite snazzy when you finish a picture! I "get lost" in the designs while coloring, which I think is the purpose of coloring for adults! Suitable for teenagers, but probably too detailed for younger children. For me, a really relaxing pastime - I feel so peaceful after I've sat and colored a beautiful design for awhile. Highly recommend.

This is a wonderful book of postcards. The cards are detailed but still a lot of fun to color. I have finished five of them and have sent two of them. They are a nice heavy card and survived the postal service very well.

These postcards are beautiful! I am so happy with the quality of these cards. I use gel pens to color them and there is not bleeding through to the other side. I like the idea of coloring postcards because it prompts me to send cards to relatives out of town. Then I don't have a useless coloring book hanging around after the finished product is completed. I would like to see this company make more postcards in the future!

These postcards to color were delivered today and they are STUNNING!!! I can't wait to do them and send them to all my friends and then I'll get all the accolades! Nice heavy paper to send through the mail with places got the stamp, the addressee and your personal note just like what postcards are. I'm very happy. By the way, I also received the Midnight Garden Coloring Book from . All the pages have a black back ground and they too are stunning!

These are worth every penny....think paper....beautiful cover....excellent variety of pictures to color. This is a great gift for an adult or children who loves to color. This will be put to use right away. :)
