

The book was found

Great Heart: The History Of A Labrador Adventure (Kodansha Globe)

Synopsis

In 1903 Leonidas Hubbard was commissioned by an outdoors magazine to explore Labrador by canoe. Joined by his best friend, Dillon Wallace, and a Scots-Cree guide, George Elson, Hubbard hoped to make a name for himself as an adventurer. But plagued by poor judgment and bad luck, his party turned back and Hubbard died of starvation just thirty miles from camp. Two years later, Hubbard's widow, Mina, and Wallace returned to Labrador, leading rival expeditions to complete the original trek and fix blame for the earlier failure. Their race made headlines from New York to Nova Scotia-and it makes fascinating reading today in this widely acclaimed reconstruction of the epic saga. The authors draw on contemporary accounts and their own journeys in Labrador to evoke the intense drama to men and women pushed beyond the limits of endurance in one of the great true adventures of our century.

Book Information

Series: Kodansha Globe

Paperback: 400 pages

Publisher: Kodansha USA; 1 edition (December 15, 1996)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 1568361688

ISBN-13: 978-1568361680

Product Dimensions: 8.4 x 1.1 x 5.7 inches

Shipping Weight: 1.1 pounds

Average Customer Review: 4.1 out of 5 stars 22 customer reviews

Best Sellers Rank: #1,651,264 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #35 in Books > Travel > Canada > Provinces > Newfoundland #826 in Books > Travel > Canada > General #1823 in Books > History > Americas > Canada

Customer Reviews

In 1903 Leonidas Hubbard set out to cross the Ungava-Labrador Peninsula, and to forge a name for himself as an adventure writer. He took a friend, a guide, a canoe, a ton of equipment, and scads of naive hope. Months later, the friend and guide staggered out of the snow, and Hubbard starved to death in his tent, too weak to attempt the 30-mile trek to safety. And that's just Part I. James West Davidson and John Ruge narrate with simple dignity, making vividly tangible the wretchedness of mosquitoes, the panic of no food, and the rocky tangle of the Labrador wilderness.

This book recounts the intertwined fates of three expeditions to Labrador at the turn of the century. In 1903 Leonidas Hubbard, Dillon Wallace, and George Easton mounted an overland trek that was eventually defeated by weather, terrain, and poor preparation. Hubbard perished. Seeking to vindicate her husband, Minna Hubbard set out to replicate the failed journey with the help of Easton, even as Wallace planned a similar attempt. The authors reconstruct the stories of the first expedition and its vying successors from the participants' journals and diaries, and use some fictional devices. An unusual tale based on historical fact, this should enjoy a wide audience. Jerry Maioli, Western Lib. Network, Olympia, Wash. Copyright 1988 Reed Business Information, Inc. --This text refers to an out of print or unavailable edition of this title.

Great Heart is an incredibly wonderful book. The true story of Labrador exploratory adventures in 1903 and 1905, its the facinating account of great difficulties, starvation, and successes in very rough country and conditions. Difficult to believe how tough the people were to make it through such adverntures, looking for "...something hidden. Go and find it. Go and look behind the ranges. Something lost behind the ranges. Lost and waiting for you. Go!" I read a borrowed copy of the book... I bought it to loan out to friends... if you like adventures in the line of Scott or Shackleton, you will love this book. John T/Vt

Great adventure story of human courage, especially considering the early day equipment and poor maps they had for guides.

Why don't more people know about this book? It puts most adventure stories to shame and makes most survivors of "hardships" look like wimps. Adventurers with virtually no prior experience, wearing wool sweaters and cotton pants, carrying tons of food, canoe and portage through uncharted waters only to get hopelessly lost. Between the bugs, cold, lack of food, etc... you wonder how any could survive. The concepts of leadership, friendship and conquest are tested. After a harrowing adventure ending in death, the widow of the expedition leader races a team member into the wilds of Labrador the following year. In 1905, it was hard enough for a man to make this unprecedented trip, and unheard of for a woman to try. It is a must read for all adventure lovers!

This is a great read. There is little written about this turn of the century, "last frontier" of North America where even today natives will tell you that you can't get there from here. The grueling hardship and trajedy are well portrayed - as are the portraits of each individual. It truly takes the 3 books written about this seminal journey and adds information from the diaries and other writings of the various figures involved; and, this is artfully done by shifting voices. The book flows well and holds suspense to a surprising degree even to those who know the eventual outcome.

The first half of the book is identical to "Lure of the Labrador Wild". I did not know this in advance, but still enjoyed reading it again.

awesome adventure

Written well. I had read this book years ago, loved it and had a hard time tracking it down. I am looking forward to reliving this tremendous journey again!

great book

Download to continue reading...

Great Heart: The History of a Labrador Adventure (Kodansha Globe) Kodansha's Furigana Japanese Dictionary (Kodansha Dictionaries) Living In, Living Out: African American Domestic and the Great Migration (Kodansha globe series) The Great Game: The Struggle for Empire in Central Asia (Kodansha Globe) Looking for the Lost: Journeys Through a Vanishing Japan (Kodansha Globe) Trespassers on the Roof of the World: The Secret Exploration of Tibet (Kodansha Globe) Conversing with the Planets: How Science and Myth Invented the Cosmos (Kodansha Globe) The Crossing Place: A Journey Among the Armenians (Kodansha Globe) Great Heart: the History of a Labrador Adventure Newfoundland and Labrador Book of Everything: Everything You Wanted to Know About Newfoundland and Labrador and Were Going to Ask Anyway Moon Spotlight Newfoundland and Labrador (Moon Spotlight Newfoundland & Labrador) Labrador Wilderness, Newfoundland and Labrador, Canada: Refresh your body, mind and soul. (Travel Handbooks) Adventure Guide Nicaragua (Adventure Guides Series) (Adventure Guides Series) (Adventure Guides Series) (Adventure Guide to Nicaragua) Adventure Guide to Canada's Atlantic Provinces: Nova Scotia, Newfoundland, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, Labrador, Iles de la Madeleine (Adventure Guide Series) World History, Ancient History, Asian History, United States History, European History, Russian History, Indian History, African History. (world history) The Lure of the Labrador Wild (Torngat Adventure Classic) Adventure Holidays in Port Hope Simpson, Newfoundland and Labrador, Canada (Travel Handbooks Book 3) The Kodansha Kanji Learner's Course: A Step-by-Step Guide to Mastering 2300 Characters The Kodansha Kanji Learner's

Contact Us

DMCA

Privacy

FAQ & Help