

Synopsis

Did the Honorable Elijah Muhammad teach true Islam or was he simply a powerful social reformer who spun an interpretation of Islam which, while socially and culturally uplifting, was religiously blasphemous? What criteria should be used to assess his Islamicity? The Qur'an and Sunnah obviously, but whose reading of the Qur'an and Sunnah is to be privileged in this discussion? Islamic scholar Dr Wesley Muhammad, who holds a Doctorate in Islamic Studies from one of America's top Public Ivy League universities, brings to this discussion for the first time a wealth of information from and concerning the Classical Arabic/Islamic tradition that has up until now been omitted. This work by Dr Wesley puts the most controversial aspect of the Honorable Elijah Muhammad's teachings the claim that God is a man in the context of the Classical Arabic/Islamic Tradition. He demonstrates that the original Arabic context of the Qur'an and the Sunnah, as well as the Arabic Sunni orthodoxy that first came together in the 8th-9th centuries, was markedly different from the de-Arabized orthodoxy that will develop later and which now dominates all discussion of God in Islam. When judged on the basis of this de-Arabized Islam, the teachings of the Honorable Elijah Muhammad indeed appear radically divergent and un-Islamic. However, when viewed from the perspective of the Arabic Qur'an and Sunnah and the Arabic Sunni Tradition that Dr. Wesley has helped rediscover, the Honorable Elijah Muhammad's teachings appear recognizably Islamic as they are consistent with what came to and through Prophet Muhammad b. Abd Allah, the Seal of the Prophets. This newly revised 2nd edition also includes an intense academic dialogue between the scholars of the respective religious communities of Minister Louis Farrakhan (Nation of Islam) and Imam W.D. Mohammed (Mosque Cares) discussing the controversial subject matter.

Open your mind for a real wake up call!!!

Brother Dr. Wesley Muhammad provides a concise well documented validation of the teachings of the Honorable Elijah Muhammad. His impeccable research makes clear Islamic thought as practiced by Prophet Muhammad and his early followers. It parallels what the Messenger taught. He busts up all notions of the spook god concept being followed by the original Muslims of Arabia. This book is indispensable for anyone who wants greater understanding of point # 12 of the Nation of Islam's wants and beliefs. The book concludes with a robust discussion between Dr. Wesley and so called Sunni scholars. At the end of the discussion one so called scholar becomes so frustrated he abandons scholarship and resorts to street vulgarity in defense of the spoke god concept. Brother Dr. Wesley Muhammad makes one proud to be from the lineage of the "Black Sheep."
