Kitten Kaboodle Zoe Donovan Mystery, Book #20 Kathi Daley 5 Stars Synopsis: Zak's honorary grandmother Nona decides to come to Ashton Falls for the summer. After arriving she meets and befriends an animal activist set on shutting down a kitten mill just outside of town. When the kitten mill owner is found dead on her barn floor, Nona becomes the prime suspect and Zoe sets out to prove her innocence. Kitten Kaboodle is chocked full of humor, surprises, and life changing events, as we discover who really framed Nona, the reason behind a visit from Zak's mother, and Ellie's shocking secret. (Goodreads) Review: As usual, a book written by this author has great character development. I really enjoyed getting to spend more time with Zoe and the gang and see what has been happening in their lives. I could read about them all day long and not get bored. They feel like friends I have known for a long time. And we got to read about Nona again and enjoy her antics and get aggravated by Zak's mom. The mystery is carried on well throughout the entire book. There are enough suspects and clues to keep the reader guessing and I was surprised at the outcome. I really enjoyed reading more about Zoe and her animal sanctuary. I loved reading about the way she was able to rescue some newborn pups and how she took care of some of the sickly kittens. It was heartwarming and added another level to the story. I would recommend this book to anyone who enjoys a well-crafted cozy mystery. If you have not had the pleasure of reading any of Kathi Daley's books, it is time you got them and read them. All of her series are fantastic.

Kitten Kaboodle (Zoe Donovan Mystery-Book 20) By: Kathi Daley Kitten Kaboodle is book twenty in the Zoe Donovan Mystery series. Kathi Daley has done it again. She weaves another cozy mystery with some quirky characters and a page-turner that will keep you guessing and turning those pages to see what is going to happen next. There is a dead body found and, Nona, Zak's grandmother is one of the many suspects. Is Nona guilty? Well, things don't look good for her. Yes, Zoe is sleuthing to find the killer. She has her hands full in this story. Zak is gone out of town and so are the kids. There is a kitten mill that people would love to see shut down but, how far will they go, would they go as far as to murder? I really enjoyed Kitten Kaboodle and I know you will too.

Kindle Copy for Review Zoe finds herself dealing with Zak's honorary Noona while the kids and Zak are out of town. Noona befriends an animal activist as they make enemies with a kitten mill owner who is later found dead and the prime suspect is Noona. Thrown into the mix a surprise visit from Zak's overbearing mother and a few rowdy cousins keeps Zoe on her toes. She finds herself with a full house as well as stolen kittens on her doorstep and trying to solve the murder. Along with the usual twists, we learn that Ellie has a secret of her own. Another fascinating read by the author.

Zoe Donovan is all grown up. That doesn't mean she will keep her nose for trouble in check. With Zak and the kids all away, who will get in more trouble - Zoe or her pink leather-wearing, motorcycle riding honorary grandmother? Besides the cozy mystery we all look forward to from Kathi Daley, we get another full helping of best friend drama and dilemma. Plus a cuddle full of kittens to fall for! Even when the murder mystery seems solved, there is a twist that sends Sheriff Salinger back to square one. It takes him and Zoe talking it out together to figure out the timeline between all of the suspects and people with motive. Even then, Zoe and Nona are in for a surprise! You will enjoy all the subtle mentions of past situations best if you have read previous books in this series, especially the onset of Zimmermans before Zoe and Zak's wedding. The three best friends of Zoe, Ellie and Levi are once again in for some tumultuous emotional experiences. We have to stay tuned to see how these events will play out.

Just when I think this series can't get any better and it blows my away! I love this story! I love the surprise in this book and can't wait to see what happens in the next books! I wish this town was for real because I would be moving to be one of their neighbors. I love Zoe and Zak and Ellie and Levi like they were my best friends. I pray this series never ends, I will be in tears if it does!! Every book rips at my heart with all the animal rescues and this one especially when she found the puppies in the dumpster! I love this series, I started with book 1 and would suggest you start at the beginning because one book leads into the next. This author is one of my favorite and I am so glad that I found her!!

With Zak away on a business trip and the foster kids all also away, Zoe finds her in the middle of several exasperating situations. Nona drops in for a visit and gets involved with a group looking to close down a neighboring cat mill farm for cruelty to the cats and kittens. Zoe initially gets involved when a box of newly born kittens appears mysteriously on her doorstep, but then Nona gets arrested for the murder of the cat mill farm owner. As if this wasn't enough, her mother-in-law and sundry family members drop in for a three week stay. And then best friend Ellie just can't seem to get over the flu. This is always a fun series to catch a quick mystery read. I love the main characters, especially the animals, and enjoy the sometimes complicated relationships between them. I look forward to the next book in this series. Disclosure: I received a copy of this book through the author in exchange for an honest review.
