Adventures In The Middle Ages (Good Times Travel Agency)

Synopsis

Join the Binkertons -- twins Josh and Emma and their pesky little sister Libby -- as they visit the Good Times Travel Agency for a trip unlike any other -- to medieval times. The trio quickly discover that medieval life isn't all knights in shining armor and stately pageants. Things go from bad to worse when the castle they're in is attacked and flaming arrows and flying cows shower down on them. Kids will love the book's contemporary comic-book look with its zany illustrations, speech balloons and guidebook. Parents and teachers will love the well-researched story lines and solid factual information.

Grade 3-6-In these picture books, twins Josh and Emma Binkerton and their younger sister Libby are transported back in time after opening a travel guide about a specific historical period at the creepy, ramshackle Good Times Travel Agency, and the only way to get home is to read the book cover to cover. Each page features the siblings' ongoing story, cartoonlike illustrations with dialogue balloons, and yellowed guidebook pages that provide basic background information about the period. The stories are full of slapstick, but hold together well and involve readers. Though the plots are contrived to tie into the guidebooks, they don't seem forced and the flow is good. The guides are written in a breezy style, paying just enough attention to the grosser aspects of each civilization to help maintain interest. Slavin's sunny pen-and-ink and watercolor illustrations are packed with details. Kids are sure to devour these lively books. Donna L. Scanlon, Lancaster Area Library, PA

Just the ticket to take you on a thrilling adventure back in time and to learn much about history while enjoying the trip. Kids are sure to devour these lively books.

This is a great one, and so are the others in this series! We use these as an opportunity to learn more about where the Binkertons time-travel to, including geography and other cultural aspects. The character Libby is a hoot. We wish there were more in this series!

My 10-year-old granddaughter loves this series. After gifting her with three books from the Good Times Travel Agency about Ancient Greece, Ancient Egypt, and The Vikings, she couldn't wait to read more. Who would want to deny their grandkid a fun as well as educational reading experience? Of course, I ordered two more books for her about the Middle Ages and the Ice Age. Both of us enjoyed them.

My son enjoys all of these books that we have gotten so far. We are reading these books along with our history material and my son is always thrilled to read the next one! Thanks so much!

My 8 year old boy read this and immediately asked for more like this! He loved these books. They take the kids into the Middle Ages with three fictional kids from our time. Plus they fill it with fun facts from that time period. A great book, for learning and for fun reading!

This is an exciting adventure of three siblings who accidentally travel back in time to the Middle Ages; done in a picture book/graphic novel format that even the most reluctant of readers will love. The character's story-line may be false, but the setting and all the wonderful information given throughout is very true. This is a great series to help elementary/middle school student's in their Ancient History studies, or just for a fun read. Educators may wish to break up into two reading sessions due to its length. These books do not need to be read in order to understand and enjoy.

A comic-book style story of siblings Josh and Emma who travel through time (Magic Tree House-style) to the Middle Ages. A "guidebook" printed at the bottom of each page give explanations of what is happening in the story. I found the comic book arrangement awkward and difficult to read. The guidebook at the bottom, however, was interesting. Grades 3-8
